

BELL TENT IN THE CAMPING FIELD

Polzeath

Fistral's neighbour on the flat, with a gas cooker and chiminea on its own deck, and the dog wash, the river walk and the shower block all a level stroll away.

Sleeps up to 4 · A double bed and two single beds · Dogs welcome

Polzeath stands beside Fistral in the camping field, on the same flat ground and to the same specification: matting underfoot, a double bed and two singles made up with bedding and towels, and a timber deck of its own with a gas cooker and a chiminea on it. It takes its name from the wide north-coast beach — which, as it happens, is a short walk from St Enodoc church, the tent up on our top hillside.

The appeal here is how little effort the place asks of you. Nothing on the park requires a climb from this deck. The facilities are a level walk away, the dog wash is behind reception, and the eleven acres of river and woodland start at the edge of the field. Guests who are travelling with an older dog, or who would simply rather not haul a cool box uphill, usually end up here or at Fistral.

It's a fair first go at canvas: more comfortable than a tent you've pitched yourself, but still properly under it, with the sides of the valley rising on either hand. The bell tents run from April to September.

Where it sits: Alongside Fistral in the camping field on the valley floor — level ground, an easy walk from the car and an easy walk to everything else.

Good to know before you book

- There's no cooking inside the canvas, but your deck has a gas cooker of its own. The cook deck at the facilities is there too, shared with everyone on the park.
- Showers and toilets are in the shared block, open 24 hours, with baby changing in both the male and female toilets. It's a flat walk from the deck.
- Bedding and towels are provided and the beds are made up. Bring your own food.
- There's a chiminea on the deck outside, with logs for your first night — for the late-night marshmallows.
- Four in a bell tent is still plenty spacious: one round canvas room with a double and two singles in it.
- The camping fields fill up in high season and there's life around you in August. If you want to be further from the fields, the hillside bell tents sit higher and quieter.
- BBQs and firepits are welcome — please raise them off the grass or the decking on a stand or bricks.
- The bell tents run from April to September. Outside those months the lodges, the school bus and the Airstream stay open, and camping pitches run in their own seasons.
- Dogs are welcome. Please keep them on a lead no longer than two metres, exercise them in the area provided, and don't leave them unattended. We can't accept Rottweilers, Dobermans, Bull Mastiffs, Pit Bull Terriers or their crosses.
- Arrive from 3pm, leave by 10am.
